KVC Kansas is a nonprofit organization dedicated to strengthening families, supporting children, and ensuring that every child in foster care has the opportunity to thrive in a safe and loving environment. As part of our mission, we recognize the critical importance of providing tangible resources, such as clothing, hygiene products, and other essentials, to children entering foster care. These items not only meet immediate physical needs but also provide a sense of comfort and dignity during what can be a challenging and uncertain time for children and families.

We would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Care Package Inbound for their incredible generosity in providing first night bags for children entering foster care. These thoughtfully prepared bags include essentials such as an outfit, new underwear and socks, personal care items, and age-appropriate items like a coloring book, journal, or small stuffed animal. Having these bags readily available allows our workers to quickly grab everything a child needs to feel cared for and supported on their first day in care. This immediate support makes a significant difference in helping children feel more comfortable during a difficult transition.

Care Package Inbound is an invaluable partner to us at KVC Kansas, and we are deeply grateful for their continued support. The quality and care that go into each first night bag are truly remarkable, and these bags mean so much to the children who receive them, especially teens who often feel overlooked during such a vulnerable time. For our social workers and our community resource team, having these bags readily available lightens their workload and allows them to focus on providing emotional support and stability to the children and families they serve. We are honored to partner with Care Package Inbound and look forward to their ongoing support as we work together to make a meaningful difference in the lives of children in foster care.
